Hello Linda,

Good luck in your endeavor. It is always preferable to see an election where there is a challenge regardless of what position one holds.

I do have a question. How did you obtain my email address since I do not remember corresponding with you before? I use this account sparingly and usually in conjunction with my website. Any insight would be appreciated as I do try to control my inclusion onto mass mailing lists. It also should be noted and others have forwarded me your announcement while citing similar concerns.

A word of caution when compiling mailing lists. Inclusion should always be voluntary and its use otherwise can be construed as SPAM by generally accepted definition. It is important to point out that I do not feel I am a victim nor do I feel that I received your message maliciously. However, I can only speak for myself.

Good luck with your campaign.

Regards,

Mike Gorski
